The Women in IP Global Networking Event is an initiative of AIPLA. For the Benelux edition organized and hosted in collaboration with the FIPE and HOYNG ROKH MONEGIER, we are putting sustainability in the spotlight this year. Prepare to be inspired by four speakers, who are each involved in making their industries, ranging from fashion to chemistry, more sustainable: Eugenie Mulier (Founder of Archivist Studio), Job van Hooijdonk (Founder of Regreener), Anne Berends (Program director sustainable technology at Seaborough) and Frank Schaap (Director business development at Chemelot). In short, thought-provoking lectures they will explain their drive to make the world more sustainable and how IP influences their business and ideas. Of course there will be plenty of room for interaction. Please note that the event will be in Dutch.

We will end the afternoon on a more informal note with a networking reception with drinks and small (vegetarian) bites.

Even though we aim to stimulate exchange of ideas and networking between women, attendance is open to everyone active in IP. We look forward to welcoming a diverse group!

The set-up of the event will be in compliance with any possible (COVID 19 related) measures in force at the time.

If you have any questions, please contact us (women.ip@hoyngrokh.com / Firouze Akhbari +31 20 592 4441).
